Happenings at CCC—

Take Care of the Body

When one part of us hurts, the whole body responds.

I’ve thrown my back out more times than I care to admit. Never doing anything heroic. Usually lifting something I shouldn’t while refusing help I should have accepted. Apparently, I’m a slow learner.

Then the rest of my body goes to work. My arms get me out of chairs. My knees do the bending. Sitting becomes an adventure. But life goes on. I adjust, ask for help, and keep moving without making things worse.

The church works much the same way. When someone is hurting, the rest of the body needs to respond. Ignoring the pain doesn't make it go away. Sometimes we need to make adjustments so everyone can participate.

Paul wrote, “If one member suffers, all suffer together with it; if one member is honored, all rejoice together with it” (1 Corinthians 12:26). We are the body of Christ, and each of us is part of it.

Jesus called himself the Good Shepherd. He noticed people others overlooked, listened to those who were hurting, and made room for those who felt left out. The shepherding voice calls us to follow his example. Some have a special gift for this, but God has entrusted us to each other.

I see you doing this already. You check on those who are missing, bring meals, sit in hospital waiting rooms, and listen when someone has concerns.

Shepherding doesn't mean protecting everyone from discomfort or avoiding what needs to be done. It means listening, making adjustments, sharing responsibilities, and accepting help so we don't cause unnecessary harm along the way.

Who needs our care and attention? Am I willing to accept help when I need it? And what adjustments can we make so everyone has a place in the life and work of the church?

We are the body of Christ. When we care for one another, we make Christ's love visible. Remember, everyone has something to give—and sometimes something to receive.

Maybe I'll even take my own advice and accept some help lifting something next time.

Peace, Dan
